HEARST SIGNS, DRAFTED NO. 1

TEN RUNNING BACKS TAKEN IN FIRST ROUND

KEVIN MACK DRAFTED!

Garrison Hearst, who signed a contract with the Phoenix Cardinals the day before the draft, was the first player selected in this year's Fantasy Football League draft.

Running backs were at a premium, with 10 of the 12 first-round picks being running backs.

The Dallas Armadillos, cellar dwellers in last year's weak Southern Division, selected Hearst as the first pick. Central Division owners, gathered at the home of Wildcats owner Ron Yeany, gave the Dallas owner high marks for his draft strategy. It appears Dallas will improve significantly in a division that appears likely to be up for grabs again this year.

In the draft blunder of the day, Richmond Rattlin' Raptors owner Chris Lieberman selected RETIRED running back Kevin Mack in the fifth round. Inside sources were not surprised that the Richmond owner made the biggest blunder of day. Outside sources were even less surprised. In fact, was anyone surprised?

RIOT, BANDITS FAVORITES TO WIN FANTASY BOWL

The Los Angeles Riot and State College Bandits have been made the odds-on favorites to win the Fantasy Bowl II. The Bandits are the defending champions, while the Riot was last year's overall point and money winner. Odds for both the Riot and the Bandits are 2 to 1.

NY, Butler, & Richmond have come in at 3 to 1. PA, PG, NJ, MI and VA have been posted at 5 to 1. PN is flaccid at 10 to 1, and DS is dead last at a whopping 75 to 1.

Inside sources suspect the ego of the RD owner may have inflated the opinion of his team to post it at 3 to 1. Regardless, $10 is the minimum bet. And please remember, these odds are for entertainment purposes only. Gambling is illegal!

NEWS, NOTES, ETC.

I Starting lineups must be called into the commissioner by kickoff for the first game each week. Nick's number is (908)248-3410.

I Remember the point system change: consolation points for combined rushing and receiving yards now begins at 80 yds., not 90 yds., and runs in 30 yd. increments.

I Keep in mind the possible scoring change for WRs to have yardage points kick in at 50 yds., rather than 60. Nick will be collecting everyone's opinion throughout the season to make an informed decision on this topic.

I Nick will be sending out fewer roster updates this year, so please try to keep track of all the teams through transactions in the newsletter.

I Get team names and ideas for logos to Ying. Have fun, and LET THE GAMES BEGIN!!

Letters to the editor...

Mr. Editor,
Kudos on your enchanting newsletter! The content is refreshing and the layout impeccable. I will, however, miss the margin graffiti feature of the previous publication. I must agree with your comments in Vol. 2, Iss. 1, regarding the pathetic lack of team names and concur that it is a poor reflection on our league. In Butler, they suspect that this is the result of a severe lack of imagination and should be deterred by imposing a 6 point per game penalty on the offending teams until they come up with something better than "no-names." In an effort to rectify the situation, the Blowfish season ticket holders have submitted numerous suggestions for "no-name" team names. The Butler management has carefully screened these submissions and is submitting several of the more promising ones (we felt "cheesedicks" was in poor taste and inappropriate and will not be submitting that nickname for one of the Coastal division teams). We would be honored if any or all of these submission were eventually chosen by the less imaginative franchises:

Virginia: "Patent Pussies" or "Lawyer Scum"
Miami: "Creekchubs" or "Manatees"
Pennington: "Unicorns" or "Cyclops" or "Leaning Tower of Wauchs" (which is pretty lame but the visual imagery is powerful). Actually, anything that denotes an image of a single component and/or a lack of symmetry would suffice for Pennington. New York: We felt none of the entries topped the suggestion "Wackerbockers". Richmond: "Huggies", "Pampers" or "I'd sell my mother for $500."

Respectfully,
Douglas G. Weaver, Co-Owner Butler Blowfish

Quotable

I didn't draft him to play. He's just helping me.”

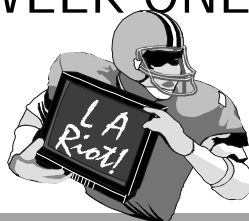

Richmond Rattlin' Raptors owner Chris Lieberman, after making what was unquestionably the BIGGEST BLUNDER of the draft by selecting retired Running Back Kevin Mack in the 5th round. But hey, with help like Kevin's, the Raptors shouldn't be so bad off even if Emmitt sits out the entire year.
